ABOUT THIS PRESENTATION:

This presentation contains strategies, tools and techniques that make the Anchorage Office of Emergency Management successful.

The Anchorage Office of Emergency Management is a department in the Municipal Managers office, designated to prepare, mitigate, respond and recover from emergencies and disasters in the Municipality of Anchorage. Our role in disasters is to support incident commander(s) in the field with information, logistics, public information and coordination of community activities to support the response.

ABOUT THIS HANDOUT:

This handout has three sections: Notes, Questions and Resources. The Notes section follows the main topics covered in the presentation. The page displays two columns, one of notes and one for personal action items that might result during the presentation.

If you have questions during the presentation, please jot them down on the Questions page and these can be answered after the presentation.

The Resources page includes information on resource material presented.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR TIME:

You have given us a gift-- your time. It is our intent to provide value for your gift. If at any time you decide that your time can be better spent elsewhere, please don't be shy about leaving. We are serious! While you're here, turn the ringers off on your cell phone and if you need to take a call please step out.
