

Leslie Vines

Leslie A. Vines is the Statewide Coordinator for At-Risk Youth for the Department of Labor. Born and raised in Butler, Alabama, Leslie moved to Anchorage in 1995. In 2001, Leslie began her career in the nonprofit sector with Nine Star Education and Employment Services, and her passion for improving opportunities for all women ignited. Throughout her 20-year nonprofit leadership career serving, Leslie has leveraged her keen knowledge of programs and policies to provide professional development and community building to thousands of women in our community.

Leslie's passion for advocating for access to social programs for women has afforded her the opportunity to use her leadership skills to work/collaborate with many of the best-known nonprofits/profits: YWCA, Camp Fire Alaska, Easter Seals of Alaska, CITCI, etc.

Leslie received her B.A. in Human Services minor in Business Studies, and she holds a M.A. in Human Resource Management, specializing in Organizational Development from Wayland Baptist University. Leslie has developed a passion for cross country skiing and biking, while spending time with her three daughters, granddaughter and dog, Buddy.
