

Madison Timmins Leads By Example

Madison Timmins is an extraordinary young man. As a member of Boy Scouts of America Troop 292, he will be awarded the rank of Eagle Scout this spring. Along with earning 30 merit badges, he has served as a Chaplain Aide and Program Manager. Madison also completed his Eagle Scout community service project for the MOA Parks & Rec. Dept. To prevent costly damage, he strengthened 21 permanent tire barriers which protect the fence surrounding the baseball fields. He has volunteered and taken part in several other scout community service projects.

In addition to many church service projects shoveling driveways and raking leaves, Madison has participated in JROTC all through high school and has been involved in their various service projects. He understands patriotism and is honored to wear his Air Force JROTC uniform. Madison is a senior at Eagle River High School and enjoys working in the horticulture program at King Career Center.

Madison is a good example to all who associate with him. He has overcome his special needs challenges by keeping a sense of humor, having positive energy and maintaining the determination needed to overcome obstacles. At school he is a hard worker, completing all expectations in a timely manner with enthusiasm.

Madison would like to be a master gardener and run his own greenhouse. By growing bright flowers and plants, he will contribute to the beautification and enhancement of our community.

GREAT KIDS
