2003 Budget Highlights

- Expands IM program's customer service. The program will take credit cards for payment of fees, and will offer limited Division of Motor Vehicle services by which residents will be able to pay their vehicle registration renewal at the IM Customer Service Counter. This will require approval of a $10 transaction processing fee that is currently allowed by DMV, which will offset the cost of this expanded service.
- The Juvenile Offender program grants are fully funded ($225,340 to the Anchorage Youth Court and Volunteers of America). Funding is also included ($47,000) for a part-time state employee at McLaughlin Youth Center, which is half of the funding provided in 2002. It's important that the State of Alaska invest in this excellent program.
- Expands Interpersonal Violence Prevention efforts to better respond to victim safety and increase offender accountability. The department has received a two-year Federal grant award of $600,000 to coordinate services with the Anchorage Police Department, Municipal Prosecutors Office, and Abused Women's Aid in Crisis (AWAIC) who will assess the needs of victims. Other partners include Standing Together Against Rape (STAR) and the Alaska Women's Resource Center. These efforts are part of the initiatives outlined in the Municipality's 2001 Domestic Violence Action Plan.

• In 2003 public inebriate programs are expanded. The $868,000 in this budget leveraged a $750,000 Federal grant to provide an "emergency safety net." These monies also leveraged partnerships for the city's "Pathways to Sobriety" campaign being done in conjunction with Cook Inlet Tribal, Inc. (Ernie Turner Center's treatment and detoxification services), Southcentral Foundation, and Cook Inlet Housing Authority.
