

2015 Lanie Fleischer Chester Creek Trail Construction

REVISED AUG. 28, 2015

The Lanie Fleischer Chester Creek Trail is a four-mile long paved, multi-use trail that parallels Chester Creek from Westchester Lagoon to Goose Lake. Anchorage residents use this major recreation and non-motorized transportation thoroughfare year-round for biking, running, walking, skiing, and commuting.

Anchorage Parks and Recreation received over $3.2 million in funding in 2012, 2013 and 2014 to resurface and upgrade the Chester Creek Trail. These funds are being used to continue a multi-year, comprehensive Parks Department trail repair program to address serious safety concerns, including the rehabilitation/replacement of cracked and heaving asphalt, bridges transitions, amenity upgrades and improved signage and wayfinding.
