The Mayor's Emergency Declaration was extended to June 5, 2020 at 11:59 p.m.

The emergency declaration allows the Mayor to issue emergency orders (EO), reassign staff and appropriate funds more quickly.

The Assembly can terminate the emergency declaration or an emergency order or regulation at any time.

The emergency declaration is NOT the Hunker Down or any other specific emergency order and can expire at different times.

Hunker Down EO-03 was reissued and will expire on May 5, 2020 at 11:59 p.m.
WHAT IS IN THE CURRENT HUNKER DOWN ORDER?

The Hunker Down order is substantially unchanged. It still requires residents to stay home except for essential trips (groceries, medical appoints, essential work) and outdoor recreation.

Landscaping and craft/fabric stores for curb side pick up and delivery are now listed as critical businesses.

Farmers markets and food trucks are also listed as critical businesses.
WHAT IS IN THE CURRENT HUNKER DOWN ORDER?

Non-critical businesses may have 2 people at their closed physical location to perform necessary and essential tasks as long as they can maintain appropriate physical distancing.

Hunker Down strongly encourages essential workers and individuals to wear face coverings (masks) when in public.

OTHER EMERGENCY ORDERS

Stores are allowed to provide single use plastic bags during the emergency.
