This project is part of the Municipality's Salmon in the City initiative, which receives federal pass-through funding from the Alaska Department of Fish and Game (ADF&G) Southeast Sustainable Salmon Fund.

In February, 2007, the Anchorage Assembly approved appropriation of $210,202 as a federal pass-through grant from ADF&G for bank restoration along Campbell Creek. The additional $41,640 being appropriated here was recently awarded by ADF&G as an amendment to the original grant. The completed project will result in restored creek banks, improved habitat for fish and wildlife, and improved access and safety for anglers.
