Subject: Community Council Boundaries 10-Year Review Project - Request for Volunteer Candidates to Serve on a Boundary Advisory Committee

To Community Council Officers and Executive Boards:

Many thanks to community council officers and members who responded to our November 4 letter (attached) and/or our brief online questionnaire regarding your community council areas and boundaries. The initial feedback is helpful as the Municipality initiates a 10-year review of Community Council district boundaries. The feedback is helping to identify any individual boundaries between neighborhood community council districts that may need to be reviewed for potential adjustments. If you or your officers would still like to submit any initial comments, please contact me this or next week. You can use the online questionnaire above or send me an email or letter.

For basic info about the Community Council Boundaries 10-Year Review project, you can visit the project web page. It includes a new “White Paper #1” laying out the Municipality’s criteria for determining community council district area boundaries. It also diagrams the public process steps. You can contact me with questions or request an appearance at a community council meeting.

REQUEST TO YOU: For the next step in the public process, the Planning Department is seeking a geographically representative group of 5 to 10 community council volunteers to serve on a Boundary Advisory Committee. The Boundary Advisory Committee will serve as a sounding board regarding a list of boundary study areas, and potential options for boundary changes. It will help shape a public review draft report with recommendations, which will be reviewed by the public, community councils, Planning and Zoning Commission, and (ultimately) the Anchorage Assembly. The Boundary Advisory Committee will be asked to meet 2 or 3 times. If you are interested in serving, or you know someone with experience as a community council officer or committee member that you would like to suggest as a good candidate to serve on the Boundary Advisory Committee, please contact me. I will be grateful to any experienced volunteers!

Thank you,

Tom
