Since the adoption of the 1977 budget, major changes in service areas have occurred.

- A new Building Safety Service Area was created to combine the function. Prior to that time, the building safety function was included in the City Service Area and in Service Area 30. A new Roads and Drainage Service Area was also created to combine the services formerly included in the City Service Area and in Service Area 35. The Port, Airport and Parking Facilities powers expanded to Areawide powers.
- Voters in the Eagle River and Chugiak areas approved the creation of a new service area for recreational facilities. A supplemental budget was adopted on June 7, 1977.
- Voters in the Girdwood/Alyeska area voted to form an expanded service area called Girdwood Valley.
- Title 27 of the Anchorage Municipal Code (Ordinance 77-197 adopted July 26, 1977) made several revisions to the service areas of the Municipality. The Library service area was deleted and the Library power is an Areawide power. Special Assessment Service Areas were created to provide for the retirement of bonded indebtedness for prior City and Borough assessments. Future bonded indebtedness for roads and drainage will be included in the new Anchorage Roads and Drainage Service Area. In addition, the titles of many service areas were changed to more clearly identify them.
- Voters in the Muldoon and Sand Lake areas voted in October 4, 1977 to be included in the Police Service Area.
