ORGANIZATION CHART DEPARTMENT OF EMPLOYEE RELATIONS

DEPARTMENT OF EMPLOYEE RELATIONS

The Department of Employee Relations is responsible for providing Municipal departments and agencies with a qualified, trained work force, providing uniform personnel rates which comply with local, state and federal law, and managing Municipal labor relations activities.

Office of Labor Relations - This office is charged with the negotiation, interpretation, costing and administration of all labor agreements; the administration and interpretation of the Personnel Rules as they apply to labor agreements and union represented employees; with representation of the Municipality in all grievance and arbitration matters; and with maintaining an on-going labor relations training program for supervisory personnel. The office also represents the Municipality before the Employee Relations Board.

Office of Personnel - This office is responsible for providing Municipal departments with a qualified workforce through administration of promotional and public recruitment and examining programs; supporting that workforce in accordance with merit system standards required under federal, state and municipal laws and the Municipal Charter; administration of classification, compensation and benefits programs; administration of workforce development programs including productivity and special merit awards, employee assistance, and educational assistance; processing employee status changes; and maintaining a comprehensive employee records system. In 1981, funding for the employee assistance and employee productivity program has been increased.
