2006/2007 Proposed General Government Operating Budget

Anchorage Police Department

Walt Monegan, Chief of Police

786-8595

Description

The Anchorage Police Department (APD) is responsible for enforcing the observance of all laws and ordinances, promoting and maintaining order and protecting lives and property.

The department includes the following divisions:

- Chief of Police – manages daily operations of the department
- Administration – provides financial and resource management services
- Operations – provides detective and patrol services

2005 Highlights

- Graduated eight new officers from the spring academy for experienced officers, with an additional 18 recruits undergoing full academy training and scheduled to graduate in October, as the department continues to staff up to meet the community's needs.
- Completed installation and staff training for the enhanced 911 emergency dispatch system, providing more accurate and complete addresses and maps to locate 911 callers. The system also will give the location of callers from cell phones equipped with GPS capabilities.
- Instituted the E-Police online system, allowing drivers involved in minor traffic accidents to file reports over a secure Internet connection. Department personnel review the online reports and contact the individuals if more information is needed. The reports are sufficient for most insurance claims, saving drivers the time of waiting for officers to respond to the scene and allowing the department to better allocate its officers for more serious incidents.
- Increased the staffing of the traffic unit to more significantly address the community's traffic issues.
- Formed an anti-gang task force to augment a communitywide effort to combat the gang problem.

2006-2007 Operational Goals

- Recruit, train and incorporate into day-to-day operations 16 additional sworn officers.
- Add four additional support personnel, including a position at the crime lab and one to assist with handling property and evidence.
- Dedicate more officers for increased enforcement of traffic laws, in an effort to reduce accidents - especially the serious accidents that result in fatalities.
- Strengthen the anti-gang initiative, including promoting community and family support and intelligence gathering efforts, begun in summer 2005.
- Continue working within the framework of the department's five-year strategic plan.
