N/A	N/A	I wish the Eagle River Transit Center had access to the heated waiting area. The door has been locked for a long time, and the clock has not worked for years. Currently, we have to wait for the bus in the cold. Since there are no longer any bus stops past the transit center going into Chugiak, we also need a place to wait for another ride. I have been relying on nearby businesses, like Taco Bell, to warm up after getting off the bus when I could be using the infrastructure built for this purpose.	People Mover is in the process of writing FTA funding paperwork to re-open the ERTC. When the ERTC reopens is will have heat, security cameras, new glass, and time locks on the doors. People Mover is in the early stages of aquiring the fudning and improvments aren't expect to occur for several years.
